President-

Hello from Munich. I am sitting in a hotel writing this month's column. I took a drive over the Rossfeldpanoramastrasse (Rossfeld Panorama Street) this afternoon, in my rental car. Next time I am renting a bike. This toll road is full of switchbacks, hairpins, and steep grades. It is kind of like a mini-Beartooth, but more technical. Bikes outnumbered cars probably two to one. I guess this primed me to right this month's message.

As I waited to cross the road at one of the overlooks, some bikes came into the sharp, downhill curve. I watched the head and eyes of one of the riders as she approached and negotiated the curve. I wish that I would have videoed her. This young lady, although she couldn't have been more than 30, was a textbook example of how to safely negotiate a curve. Despite the distractions of other traffic, cows, pedestrians, and awesome scenery; she maintained her line and looked where she needed to go. Hats off to her and whoever trained her. We too can achieve this level of proficiency through advanced training and lots of practice. This is what we should strive for and pass on to young or new riders.

Please pray for the healing of our many sick and injured members.

Ride safe,
John

Safety-

How many times have you gone on a ride and had a rider in your group breakdown for a problem that should have been corrected before leaving the house? Pre-ride checks are important to ensure your bike is ready to ride. This month we have included a checklist from the Motorcycle Safety Foundation to assist you with these checks. You can print this list and hang it on your garage wall. Share it with your friends. This checklist is not a substitute for the maintenance plans outlined in you owner and service manuals.

Thanks & Ride safe
John
